Herd Bull Prospects, Proven Breeding
Matrons and Heifers of Great Promise, an Offering which will Rank with the best we have ever sold

JOS. MILLER & SONS
GRANGER, MISSOURI

A Word About the Offering

Good cattle have been produced by the Millers through the aid of distinguishing breeding; therefore, since this is immeasurably their best offering from the standpoint of breeding, it follows that in individuality these cattle measure up to and exceed any offering they have ever sold.

The pedigrees of the females in this catalogue have been arranged by families in their alphabetical order. Since when has there been offered such a list of well-bred tribes, beginning with "Augustas" and going through to "Rosewoods" and "Secrets"? It does not contain a pedigree that fails to excite interest by reason of the names of constructive breeders and prepotent sires. Furthermore, a great portion of the offering would be rated among the tops in any nationally known herd.

Prospective purchasers will discover a particular value in these cattle, other than conformation and breeding, in the fact that in every case these entries have either been bred by the Millers or have been on the farm for such a period of time that removes the offering from anything which savors of speculation. From every angle, it is an offering which will rank far beyond the average and as such sale averages, such as have prevailed during the past two years, should not apply in forming any estimate of their value.

WALTER L. MILLER,
of The Breeder's Gazette.

Attention is called to the following sales: June 13, Uppermill Farm, Wapello, Ia.; June 15, Davis & Lucas, Glenwood, Mo.; June 16, W. C. Prewitt & Sons, Clarksville, Mo.

A meeting of the Missouri Shorthorn Breeders' Association is called for Granger, Mo., the evening of June 13 at 7:30. All breeders are invited and urged to attend. An interesting and instructive programme is being planned.

Oakdale Cumberland will attract particular attention for the reason that he combines unusual promise with illustrious ancestry. His dam began her successful show career as a calf by winning her class at the American Royal and the International, being once a grand champion as a senior calf. She won seven junior championships at the fairs of 1920, and two grand championships.
